

Supreme Court of Nova Scotia (Family Division)

Summer Emergencies

Monday, May 27, 2024

In recent years, the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia (Family Division) has had to deal with several emergency motions and applications for back-to-school issues or relocation requests for September which are often filed very close to the end of the summer.

The Family Division tries to ensure that these urgent matters can be accommodated in a timely manner while also ensuring that judges are available to meet the needs of other litigants.

To help ensure court time will be available to deal with any such emergencies, counsel are asked, where possible, to file their materials with the Supreme Court (Family Division) on or before Monday, June 17, 2024.

Associate Chief Justice R. Lester Jesudason
Supreme Court of Nova Scotia (Family Division)